Announcement of my Hermeneutics course in Colombia

Dear Family and Friends,

We're excited about new ministry opportunities that God is giving us despite the continuing Covid global shutdown.

From Jan. 25-30, I taught a new course on "Hermeneutics: the science and art of Biblical Interpretation" by Zoom to 50-55 pastors and church leaders in Bogotá, Medellín and other parts of Colombia. I taught for six nights in a row from 6-8 p.m. (CST) Monday through Saturday and the students did small group exercises to practice the principles they were learning. God really blessed the course. Here are some of the students' feedback: "The class was super. It was a good time to learn the rules (of biblical interpretation) and to listen to our colleagues' opinions. It was very enriching." "Thank you my brother."

I'm also excited about a six week church planting training course that I've been invited to teach to a large group of pastors in northern Colombia every Tues. night from March 9–April 13. I'll be working on that course this month.

Also, I'm now coaching a young Presbyterian pastor and a young missionary as they seek to plant a church in Suramericana, a neighborhood of Medellín, Colombia. This pastor has a vision to plant several more churches in Medellín and I'm supporting him in that. I'm also helping him prepare three candidates for ordination in his presbytery in Colombia. He would like to start 4 new churches in his denomination so that they can start a new presbytery in the Medellín area.

Please pray for us for:

1. For my preparation and teaching of the church planting course in northern Colombia from March to April.
2. For my coaching of the pastor and missionary in planting the new church in Medellín and preparing the 3 candidates for ordination.
3. In God's timing, that we'll be able to resume our in-person classes when the pandemic ends.
4. Give thanks that Colleen's wrist & knee are doing much better (see photo)! Please pray for healing of our grandson Manny's kidneys, now working at only 50%.
