Colombia Staff Retreat: Encouraging the Team

In January I gathered with our Colombian team for a staff retreat. This was their first in-person gathering since covid. We had an opportunity to pray, study the word, review some of Dr. Blackaby's book on Spiritual leadership, and plan the next Bible Institute class. We have met regularly on zoom, but meeting face to face over four days was a refreshing change. The team took turns cooking and doing dishes. Relationships were deepened and the team has great opportunities ahead.

Looking Forward: March 24-31 Honduras

I plan to visit Honduras to meet with the team and to plan an upcoming building project. We need a place to film upcoming courses and develop the audio and video needed for online and in-person Bible Institute courses. A dorm for visiting teachers and potential interns is needed and there is the opportunity to have a dental clinic to serve the area. I will also meet with the five families we have serving in the Siguatepeque area. I want to connect with each team member about their goals clarify job descriptions.

Field visits:

Tim Prewitt and I will visit our European fields, and Kenya. I hope to visit Ukraine as soon as possible. Our goal is to explain the transition process for me this year and I look forward to deepening relationships and encouraging our staff to press on.

Staff Retreat: Refresh and Recalibrate our Missionary Families

July 26-August 2 in Bogota, Colombia

Our goals in gathering the Latin American missionaries, staff, teachers, and pastors are to strengthen the family as they serve and to help connect the team with each other. Please pray all will be challenged and encouraged, and there will be unity in Christ.

Ukraine update:

Today I spoke to Andrew, our missionary team member who lives in northern Ukraine. He was very encouraged by God's protection and from the fruit of his ministry during the crisis. He has been distributing eggs, chickens, and flour with the gospel. His city has been bombed, but not as severely as many others. God has protected them, and the believers have been able to gather for church services. Near his city, some believers have even fed and spoken to some young hungry Russian soldiers. Some quit the battle and tried to return home, but sadly, reportedly they were executed at the border. Pray for peace in Ukraine and the gospel to be proclaimed.
