WORLD REACH[®]

SINCERE WISHES FROM THE HUYHUA FAMILY FROM LIMA, PERU

Beloved brothers & sisters, it is a joy to write to you as a family with a spirit of gratitude to our good God for each one of you. We want to share about God's divine grace in our hearts and our love for you.

2023 has been challenging, but also rich in the areas that God, by His grace, allowed us to serve Him. We have grown more in our knowledge of God and in the ministry. God has opened new opportunities and new doors to minister His Word; to nurture people; to edify churches, both leaders and church members; and to be an encouragement, a comfort, and an exhortation to many.

Even through trials with our health that God allowed us to go through (like the surgery on my ankle last year in November, and this year in April with Evelyng's surgery), we give thanks to the Lord for allowing us see His mercy and to experience the importance of the body of Christ, the love of the brethren. They have taught us how God can work, comfort, and strengthen. They showed us that the work of the Lord we invested in them was not in vain. So, we continue to be debtors to our God for them.

This time has been a great teaching experience, and we can conclude saying that God has strengthened us and widened our hearts to continue to serve Him. Our two sons have experienced God's care in their lives through the brethren as well. This is something that will last in their lives as a testimony of God's faithfulness. They still speak about this, and we take the opportunity to praise God with them.

"I will sing to the LORD because he is good to me."

Psalm 13:6

We thank each one of you for continuing to intercede before God on our behalf, for sharing your love with us, and for financially supporting the World Reach ministry over the years. Thank you for making us and our two sons, David and Nathan, part of your lives. They also want to say thank you. They have grown, but our first priority for them is that they will develop a fear of the Lord in their hearts, and join with people like you in that same goal.

It is our desire and prayer, knowing that the coming of our Lord Jesus will be soon, that our Savior will find us faithful in each area of our lives. Also, our prayer is that God will give each of you a quiet time to remember His greatness. Job 37:14 says: "Hearken unto this, O Job: Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God." We pray that all of us will finish our lives in gratitude and in praise of His wondrous works.

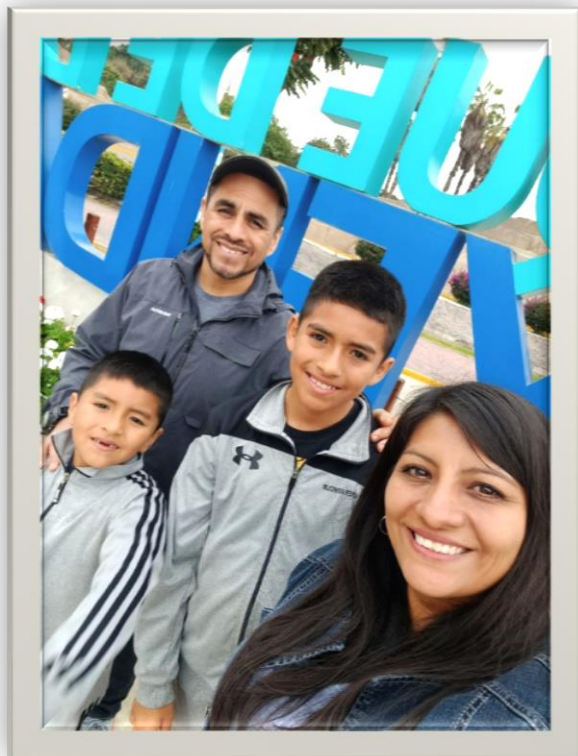

Beloved, we hope you will have a joyous time as a family this Christmas. As the year comes to an end, we can praise the Lord together for His faithfulness, God willing, recognizing Him in all our ways. We can celebrate the fact that He not only came to give us His great salvation, but that one day (my conviction is that it will be soon) He will come and take us to Himself.

This is our desire and our greatest hope. This is our faith in Him.

We send a huge hug, and we hope that you have a merry Christmas. These are the sincere desires of the Huyhua family: Bryan, Evelyng, David, and Nathan. May the all-powerful God remember your prayers and support for this ministry.

Blessings,

The Huyhuas
