Showing Love

Stones Crossing Church of Greenwood, Indiana joins with Family of Faith from Santa Ana to serve alongside churches from communities in El Salvador to show love to the most needed. This one of the greatest blessings we have. My heart is full of joy when I see hundreds of people provided with physical and spiritual relief. I see their shining faces after their medical consultation when they receive their medicine and get to hear the Gospel.

What a medical team trip looks like: Each day we begin by traveling to provide clinical consultation in rural areas. We set up, organize the people, and see them according to their needs. The doctors take their vitals, they weigh each person, then the doctors and dentists begin attending to each one. The children's ministry is prepared to engage the children. It's a lot of work.

We saw God's hand in each moment! We had the opportunity to reach out to 4 different communities in much need; two of those communities had pastors planting churches.

In one location, 25 people asked for prayer, and this location is considered to be a difficult place to share about Jesus. One person received Christ as their Savior. After our visit, there are now 5 new people attending church.

In another community, where the church has just recently been planted, 3 people gave their lives to Christ, and all heard the Gospel.

Spiritual Needs

Supporting pastors who are planting churches in their communities was our main goal. We wanted to provide more than medical care; we wanted to attend to their spiritual needs!

We saw God's hand during the whole week, and we can only give glory to God for the privilege of serving Him and for being considered worthy to be placed in this ministry.

"Thank you for your support towards our church and for coming to help the communities," was a phrase we heard over and over again. Thank you to all who have made it possible for us to continue to show the love of God to the world.
