

ANDERSON NARANJO

 Serving God in Colombia

A Handful of Disciples, a World Forever Impacted

“...These men who have caused trouble all over the world have now come here...”

Acts 17:6

Making Disciples, One Life at a Time

It is fascinating to see how Jesus focused His ministry on just twelve people, and how through these few He has impacted the entire world to this day. Why not follow His example?

During these days, together with my wife, we have been inviting others into our lives (discipling them)

We came to realize that these teenagers need people they can look up to.

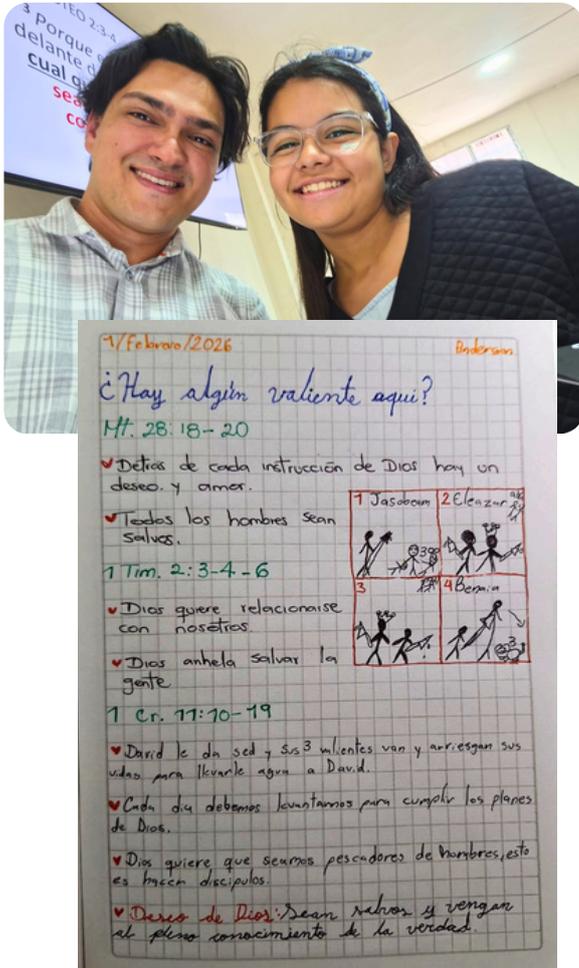

→ They are engaged. This season of dating and engagement is new to them. My wife and I went through the same journey almost three years ago.

We are not experts, but we are currently walking alongside this couple and intentionally following up with them.

Dear brothers and sisters, I am confident that making disciples is the best path for the expansion of God's Kingdom.

Teaching at different churches

The Lord has allowed me to visit some churches in the region to teach.

At the end of one of these messages, one of the teenage girls from the church approached me and showed me the notes she had taken from the message. This encouraged me greatly.

Annual Planning Meeting

We had our annual planning meeting with our World Reach Colombia team, and it was a wonderful time together!
