

Hey friends! Here's what's happening at La Roca...

In February we partnered with Twin Missions International from the U.S.who brought a medical missions team to La Roca. They went into the surrounding communities to provide medical attention and do evangelist outreach. While I was not able to accompany the team because we started teacher in-service days at school that same week, Micah was able to go and help. While the plan was for her to help with the kids' activities, on the last day she was asked to translate for a doctor who was attending patients, Though it was a bit of an intimidating task for a 13 year old, the Twin Missions Leaders said she did great!

Do you work in the medical field? Would you be interested in joining a medical missions team? Twin Mission gathers their teams from all around the U.S. and typically comes to La Roca in February each year. If you would be interested in joining them, send me an email and I can get you connected!

At Sunday school this week we had "Promotion Sunday" in the children's Sunday school program that Jhonatan and I continue to lead! In the junior age class that Jhonatan teaches we had 4 students get promoted out of our class, while 15 students got promoted in! Looks like we will have our hands full this year!

Teachers and Staff

We had our back to school meeting with the parents on Monday night and we kicked off the school year with students on Wednesday!

Please keep praying! The Lord has provided an Elementary English Teacher for the year (Praise Him!) yet we still have a secondary position to fill (Pray!)

After our first 3 days of school, last night the government ordered all schools to go virtual for this upcoming week. 😬 This was unexpected and honestly really complicates the activities that our teachers had planned and prepared. The activities must now be completely reformulated to try and accomplish virtually. Please pray for creativity, encouragement for discouraged hearts, wisdom and good connectivity throughout this week. We pray that the natural gas shortage that we are facing here in Lima might be resolved this week so that we might return to classes.

Though our need is great, Our God is greater! We trust him!
Thanks for partnering with us in prayer!
