

Taking Christ to the Nations

The Shepherding Continues

Words like flexibility, energizing, sometimes exhausting, trusting, learning, and growing come to mind.

Recently, I attended a men's gathering at my church where the words Pastor, Protector, and Provider were shared to encourage men in their roles. As I reflected on those words, I realized they describe my ministry far better than the term "CEO" — and certainly better than my least favorite term, "boss."

God has called me to shepherd our team. A shepherd leads from the front, serving and encouraging along the way. As a pastor, I seek to care for and strengthen our team spiritually. As a protector, I sometimes help lead necessary changes to prepare for the ever-changing ministry landscape. I also work to guard our team members' hearts and families so they are not devoured by "doing." Jesus first called us to be with Him; the doing must flow from our relationship with Him.

The Homefront

As a provider, I serve from the home office through prayer letters, developing projects, casting vision, overseeing accounting, and building donor partnerships so that our team can thrive on the field.

The Ministry Journey

I remain one of the team. I am not salaried by the organization but continue to raise my own support for living expenses, travel, and ministry. For 32 years, God has faithfully provided for my ministry through World Reach. Many of you have been part of that entire journey. Thank you for your faithfulness and generosity.

Prayerful Updates

On December 29, I traveled to Honduras to meet with our team and help them plan for 2026. I am trusting God to do great things through our Honduran team and all of our World Reach family.

This year, I am praying for additional monthly supporters so that we can continue and expand our reach. Would you prayerfully consider partnering with us?

Thank you for your prayers and for the sacrifices you make to share in this ministry.

“Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, for such sacrifices are pleasing to God.”
Hebrews 13:16
